REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

1. This application is being allowed after a telephone discussion with Julie Meder on April 26, 2004.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The Examiner has withdrawn the 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph rejection of record and passed this application to issue after reviewing the arguments presented in appellants' Appeal Brief dated February 27, 2004. More particularly, he agrees with appellants that the claimed subject matter is enabled by the specification despite the presence of at least two inoperative embodiments set forth therein. These two embodiments, upon reconsideration, are not described in the specification as being particularly preferred, and the fact that two such embodiments are known to exist does not render the specification defective in view of the numerous remaining combinations disclosed and the operability of the combinations in the Examples. In summary, the fact that certain potential components in a particular combination are inoperative in order to achieve the claimed range of performance parameter values will not negate the validity of the claims since the claimed subject matter is described in such a manner as to enable one of ordinary skill to practice the invention.

Additionally it is further noted that, as discussed with Ms. Meder, combinations employing one of the two referred to monomers set forth at page 7, lines 19 and 20 of the specification with other urethane acrylate oligomers may well be operable, and it is for this reason that these two particular monomers have not been cancelled in the specification.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

3. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Daniel Zirker whose telephone number is (571) 272-1486.
